PARENTING ADVANCED LEARNERS

A series of Six Discussion-Based Classes

Facilitated by Karen Littell, MSW

Parenting advanced learners can be wonderfully rewarding. It can also be challenging and exhausting!

This series offers in-depth information about nurturing sensitive, intense, creative, and insatiably curious children. Topics will include understanding and accommodating intensity, meeting social/emotional needs, peer relationships, perfectionism, procrastination, motivation, underachievement, self-regulation, executive function skills, homework help, depression, stress, idealism, twice-exceptional children (gifted plus other issues), frustration tolerance, and much more! You will also have access to a comprehensive lending library.

Please join us for good company, support, lively discussion, and plenty of useful strategies!

Karen Littell, MSW, served for four years on the statewide board of the California Association for the Gifted, and has both attended and presented many workshops related to parenting gifted children. She created and chaired the Northern California CAG Symposium, a conference designed to increase the capacity of parents and educators to keep gifted children engaged and challenged at school and thriving at home. Ms. Littell delivered the keynote address at the 2015 Humboldt County GATE Academy and continues to present to school districts throughout our region. She has many years of experience counseling children and families. This will be Ms. Littell's tenth cycle as facilitator of Parenting Advanced Learners.

PARENTING THROUGH RECOVERY FROM NORTH BAY FIRES

The North Bay fires affected our entire community. People who lost their homes were particularly highly impacted. Children who are in the process of recovering from the fires can greatly benefit from skilled guidance from family members. It can help a great deal for parents to learn about thoughts, feelings and behaviors that their children might experience in the coming months, and how to guide their children through a process that can at times feel overwhelming. It can also be beneficial to learn about red flags that might indicate a need for professional help.

Parents who have lost their homes to the North Bay fires are invited to participate in parenting groups that teach about the progression of post-disaster recovery. By gathering in a forum with others who have endured a similar experience, participants have been receiving support, empathy, and resources, and gaining strength, hope, and concrete strategies. Parents are able to safely process their own experiences and share insights about guiding their children. As parents become more resilient, they are better able to foster resilience in their children.

If you lost your home, we hope that you will join us in these free groups.
